SATURDAY, APRIL 29, 1905.

Phoenix Hose Company.

The members of Phoenix Hose Company No. 1 will give an entertainment and reception in Central Hall on Friday evening, May 5. This entertainment is for the purpose of raising funds for the equipment of Phoenix Hose Company's headquarters in the new firehouse on Bloomfield avenue. A fine array of vaudeville talent has been engaged for the occasion and handsome souvenir programmes will be furnished.

Among those who will afford entertainment are two well-known vaudeville artists, Colgan and Harman. Mr. Colgan is an impressionist and a teller of humorous and snappy stories. And Miss Harman is a skillful mandolin player and musical reader. Rosant, the juggler, will also appear and give an unexcelled exhibition in his special line. Haley and Bond, comedians, who have amused Bloomfield audiences on former occasions, will appear with a new repertoire, and Frank Sherman, humorist, will sing comic songs and tell humorous stories. Sweet's orchestra will furnish music. The price of admission is fifty cents, and tickets can be obtained from members of Phoenix Hose Company.

Strangled With a Burglar.

The residence of Alexander Dreux, North Berkeley avenue near the Fairview School, was entered by a burglar Wednesday night and money and silverware stolen. The robbery occurred about half-past twelve o'clock. Mrs. Dreux awoke and discovered the thief in her room. She sprang from her bed and seized him and called for help. Mrs. Dreux is not a strong woman and the robber shook himself loose from her grasp and threw her on the bed. She yelled murder and the thief fled.

Mr. Dreux who occupied a room in another part of the house was aroused by his wife's screams, and Joseph Garlock, the new dealer, who lives next door also heard the woman shout, and ran out armed with a revolver. He saw a man running from the house and fired several shots at him. The thief made good his escape with one hundred dollars in cash and some articles of silver which were valued highly as keepsakes.

The Dreux family, according to the police, have been careless in not properly locking windows and doors at night.

Governor, Bloomfield.

The Bloomfield Trust Company has issued an attractive hand-book giving information about the company and its business. On the front cover page is a portrait of Gen. Joseph Bloomfield, after whom the town was named about the year 1810, and on the first page of the book is a brief and interesting biographical sketch of Governor Bloomfield's career. The Bloomfield Trust Company was organized in 1902 with a capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $30,000. By conservative management it has increased its surplus in two and one-half years to nearly $50,000. It has not met with a single loss through bad investments. The company's deposits are now over $700,000. The board of directors consists of James N. Jarvie, William W. Snow, Allison Dodd, A. B. Brewer, J. M. Van Winkle, William B. Broughton, M. D., Edward Oakes, R. M. Boyd, Jr., Edwin M. Ward, M. D., H. Harvey Dodd, Wm. H. White, M. D., John Sherman, Joseph Dodd.

Entertainment.

St Paul's Club will give an entertainment in St. Paul's parish house Prospect street and Renshaw avenue, Tuesday evening, May 2. An enjoyable programme has been arranged, consisting of sketches, readings and vocal and instrumental music. An amusing sketch "Who Died First?" will be presented by Ralph Johnson, William Black, Leslie Coffman and Harry Irwin. Howard Marshall, an elocutionist, will give selected readings. Miss Gertrude Wilde and Miss Gertrude Hayward will sing, and Miss Mary Smith will give recitations. John Coffman's orchestra will play several selections. A sketch "Wanted a Competent Clerk," will be presented by Fred Canfield, Fred Bokel, Jr., Chester Black, Charles Copeland, George Galien and William Black. The proceeds will be devoted to the St. Paul's Baseball Club.

Reception to New Minister.

The congregation of the Watessing M. E. Church gave a reception to their new pastor, the Rev. S. T. Jackson, Monday night. Alfred H. Edgerly presided, and after a few introductory remarks called upon the various members of the church, who responded with words of welcome, promising hearty support to the pastor. In responding to greetings, Mr. Jackson expressed satisfaction at the warm welcome accorded him. Mr. Jackson in the course of his address said he did not believe in festivals and fairs for the support of God's ministry, but if at any time it was intended to raise funds for repairs to church or parsonage, there ought to be free will offerings.

Mrs. Jackson was presented with a bouquet of carnations by Mrs. Bertha Dann on behalf of the Epworth League, and a large cake was given to the pastor and wife by Miss Edna Gaff, and upon it was the inscription, "Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Jackson."

Addresses were made by Rev. Charles Hicks Camman, a retired clergyman; William Ellor, Sr., on behalf of the official board; John Politt, for the Sunday morning class; George W. Oakes, for the Epworth League; Mrs. Albert Ellor, for the Junior League; Samuel Ellor, for the Sunday-school; Mrs. Jacob S. Wolfe, for the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society; Mrs. Frank Knapp, for the Ladies' Aid Society; Henry Gaff, for the Twentieth Century Society, and Arthur A. Ellor, for the choir.

Miss Etta Knapp played a piano solo, Henry Albion sang, and the Misses Goldsmith and Clara Ellor rendered a piano duet. After the entertainment all were invited to meet the new pastor and his wife.

Mr. Jackson came from Perth Amboy, where he served five years as pastor. Before that he was pastor of the Davis Memorial Church, in Harrison. He studied for the ministry at the Collegiate Institute, Hackensack, and later attended Dickinson College and Illinois Wesleyan University. For eight years he took a post-graduate course in the New York University, and also took a special course in social science in Harvard University. Mr. Jackson is an extensive traveler, having crossed the ocean ten times. In the museums of Germany and Great Britain he spent some time in research work. As a writer to religious periodicals Mr. Jackson has acquired more than a local reputation.

The Position of East Orange.

The East Orange Water Committee was severely criticised at a meeting of the Bloomfield Board of Trade Tuesday night, because of its refusal to enter into a contract to supply the town with water. Such criticisms are absolutely unjust, in view of the fact that the East Orange supply has so recently come into use that any contract to supply any other municipality would be the rashest folly until the efficiency of that supply had been thoroughly established by experience.—East Orange Gazette.

The criticism of the action of the East Orange officials is based upon statements of some of the officials themselves, who positively assert that East Orange has an abundant supply of water, and could supply Bloomfield if there was not some unexplainable opposition behind against any action in that direction.

Fire House Opening.

After the Board of Trade had disposed of the water question Tuesday night, the Executive Committee of the Board and members of the Town Council had a conference over the proposed formal opening of the new fire house on Bloomfield avenue on May 30, (Decoration Day.)

Councilman Green of the Fire Committee stated that it was the intention to open the new fire house in a manner befitting the occasion, and the co-operation of the Board of Trade would be appreciated.

The Executive Committee after conferring over the matter passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Executive Committee of the Board of Trade hereby endorse the project of the celebration of the new fire houses and recommends that the members of the Board of Trade and all public spirited citizens contribute toward defraying the expenses of the celebration, subscriptions to be handed to the committee authorized to receive the same and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to each member of the Board of Trade and be published in the Bloomfield CITIZEN.

Tydeman-Holt.

Miss Edith Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Holt, and William Alfred Tydeman, both of this town, were married at the home of the bride's parents, 47 Park avenue, Monday night by the Rev. Edwin A. White, rector of Christ Episcopal Church. The ceremony was attended only by the relatives of both families. The bride wore a travelling gown of champagne voile, and carried a prayer book, a gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Edward Farmer, of Montclair, as matron of honor, who was gowned in white organdie. Stephen Tydeman, Jr., of Easton, Pa., a brother of the groom was the best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Mary Snedeker, of Brooklyn, a cousin of the bride. The decorations were red and white, the colors of Cornell, the groom being a graduate of that university.

The flowers used in the decorations were red and white tulips. Five of the relatives present were over seventy years of age. They were: Dr. and Mrs. Levi D. Sheets, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. William Wood, grandparents of the groom, and Mrs. Augusta Holt, of Brooklyn, grandmother of the bride on her father's side. Mrs. Holt the bride's mother, wore a gown of gray silk trimmed with point lace. The bride and groom left for a wedding trip and will reside in Easton, Pa., where the groom is in business. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Tydeman.

Miss Coffman's Musicals.

Miss Viola Coffman, daughter of John Coffman, the well-known music teacher and orchestra leader, gave a musical Thursday night at her parents home in Marcy avenue, East Orange. A large number of young people enjoyed a pleasant evening. The musical programme consisted of orchestral selections and piano and violin solos. Among those who participated were Gussie Brown, pianist; Hazel Brown, violinist; Alma Cardwell, Irene Atwood, Bessie and Adelaide Guernsey, Grace Gallien and Viola Coffman, piano solos; Stephen Batta, George Kohler and Benjamin Jones, violinists.

Mr. Coffman supervised the violin work of the young people, and Mrs. Collins, the well-known piano instructor, assisted in the piano work. Mr. Coffman, Mrs. Collins and Mr. Frank, cornetist, also played selections. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Coffman.

The proficiency in both piano and violin work shown by the young folks was much admired and praised by the adults present. Miss Coffman was congratulated upon the success of her first social venture.

Harnum and Bailey Show.

One can get a good idea of the magnitude of the greatest show on earth by considering for a moment that three stages, three circus rings, and a race track are required to exhibit the 100 acts. Then there are two menageries, an elephant pavilion with three herds of big performing pachyderms, double-horned rhinoceros, a drove of camels, herd of giraffes, cages of wild beasts, birds, monkeys, etc., besides all the curious led animals, llamas, alpacas, guanacos, and many others. And again there is a most delightful exhibition, which is performed in the menagerie—an exhibition of the most charming character executed by the troupe of midgets, the giant, the Scandinavian troupe of dancers, vocalists and others. Aside from the people, who of themselves are curiosities, the entertainment is most praiseworthy. The gorgeous Durbar is perhaps the greatest undertaking yet attempted in the line of great displays and spectacles, and the many Parisian sensations, such as looping the gap, of which, by the way, there are half a dozen, are thrilling in the extreme. The performances of the three herds of elephants in three rings are wonderful. The entire show is one of exceptional merit and well worth a visit—in fact, it is worth a dozen visits, for no one can see it all in less, and will be at Newark, Tuesday May 2, and exhibit a thousand wonders begueth water-proof tents, which contain a foot-rest for every seat.

Board of Trade Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Board of Trade will be held Thursday evening, May 4, at the Union Club, 35 Clinton street, Newark. Each member of the Board is entitled to bring a guest to the banquet and the fee for each invited guest is $1.50.

Some Retail Coal Trade "Don't's."

Don't expect to get 2,240 lbs. for a ton. Most people are satisfied with 2,000 lbs.

Don't expect coal to be clean enough to dump on the parlor carpet without leaving its trade-mark.

Don't think the coal man makes a dollar profit on every ton of coal; he makes two.

Don't try to organize a coal club among your neighbors expecting to buy coal a dollar cheaper. Clubs are charged extra.

Don't ask him to chute coal around more than six corners.

Don't expect his chutes to be longer than 500 feet.

Don't ask him to "fetch around" half of a lumber yard to bridge that gutter.

Don't order stove coal when you want out and don't order nut when you want stove. When the driver comes back with the coal because you did not order the right size, they say the coal man swears.

Don't order your coal after the price has gone up and expect to get it at the lower figure.

Don't tell him that last coal was "all dirt." There must have been a few pieces of good coal in it.

Don't expect a ton of coal to last forever.

Don't fail to place your order now at 5.75 a ton.

Don't forget that the place to buy, if you want Coal and not promises, is at 324 Glenwood Avenue.
